STARTS ANTI KLAN WAR IN LEGISLATURE

Joint Resolution At Madison Would Force Masks Off Membership List

Madison — A joint resolution urging United States congress to enact such legislation as may be necessary to make it treason for the Ku Klux Klan or any similar organization to refuse to submit a list of its members upon demand was introduced into the lower house of the Wisconsin legislature Friday by Assemblyman F. J. Peterson, Milwaukee.

It has been impossible to fix the responsibility for the methods and practices alleged to have been committed by certain secret societies because of the lack of information concerning the membership and officers of such organizations, according to resolution.

The repeal of the Esch-Cummings law, was asked in a joint resolution introduced into the lower house by Assemblyman John W. Eber, Milwaukee.

AIMS AT PROPAGANDA

Paid editorials and news items in newspapers and other periodicals, intended to influence the public, will have to carry the words "Paid Advertisement" and a statement about the story giving the name and the address of the person authorizing the payment and of the author, if a bill introduced in the lower house of the Wisconsin legislature by Assemblyman Lawrence Timmerman, Milwaukee, is passed.

A constitutional convention to draft a new basic law for Wisconsin is asked in a resolution introduced into the upper house by Senator J. J. Hirsch, Milwaukee.

Creation of an emergency rent bureau under the Wisconsin Railroad commission to investigate and determine what are fair rents to be charged by landlords in the cities of the state, is called for in a bill introduced into the senate by Timothy Burke, Green Bay.

WANT TAX INFORMATION
The senate concurred in an assembly resolution ordering the Wisconsin Railroad commission to turn over to the assembly taxation committee information concerning the bonded indebtedness of public utilities in the state.

The resolution declares that the people of the state are annually paying large sums to meet interest on this indebtedness which the utility companies are making no effort to retire.

Senator A. H. Verden, Ashland, introduced a resolution calling for a constitutional amendment to permit the state to borrow a sum not exceeding one-fifth of one mill on the state taxable property of the state, to aid land settlement and improvement of cutover lands.

A similar resolution by Senator Verden was adopted by the 1921 legislature and if acted on favorably at this session goes to a vote of the people at the general election in 1924.

A bill memorializing congress to amend the federal constitution requiring that amendments to the constitution be submitted to and be approved by the people before becoming effective was introduced by Assemblyman Timmerman.

DELAY ACTION ON OFFICIAL DEBT BODY

Washington—Action on the resolution of Senator Robinson, Democrat of Arkansas to authorize official membership on the reparations commission again was deferred Friday by the senate foreign relations committee which decided to ask the state department for further information regarding the activities of the present staff of unofficial observers serving with the commission.

TELLS OF THREATS TO KILL FAMILY

Kin Of Daniel Also Slated For Murder, Declares Witness In Hearing

By Associated Press
Rastrop, La. — William J. McDonald, 60, brother-in-law of J. L. Daniel, father of Watt Daniel, who with T. E. Richard, was kidnapped near here Aug. 24 and whose mutilated bodies were found in Lake LaPoudre last month, testified at the open hearing into the activities of masked men in Morehouse Parish Friday that "Jap" Jones had told him the "whole damned Daniel family" would be "cleaned out" before the alleged attempt to assassinate Dr. E. M. McKinnon was settled.

McDonald said Jones did not know he was related to the Daniel family and that after he became aware of it asked him to forget it.

"Do you know anything about the kidnapping?"

"Yes sir, I knew it an hour before it happened. You see I was in Bonita at the time. You could hear all about it except they did not figure out the right parties kidnapped."

"Let's have some more of what you heard."

"Well, after the kidnapping Jim Harp and us got to talking in his butcher shop about the kidnapping and he told me they should have killed them the night they caught Daniel, Andrews and Neelis on the Gallion rd and they would not have had any more trouble with them. (The Gallion rd kidnapping occurred about Aug. 17.)

War President Still Would Like Honor—Supporters Of His Son-In-Law Will Not Take "No"

By DAVID LAWRENCE
Copyright 1923 by the Post Pub. Co.

Washington — William Gibbs McAdoo's monosyllabic answer to the query whether he was a candidate for the Democratic nomination for the presidency has developed divergent opinions as to just what the word "bunk" really means under the circumstances—whether it is synthetic or real.

Although Mr. McAdoo wishes to convey the idea that he is not a candidate and hopes the word "bunk" will be taken literally, the McAdoo organization today as in the convention days at San Francisco in July 1920 construes the utterance as not meaning anything—at least the effect has not been to dissolve the organization or even to arrest the efforts of the same group of men who refused to take "bunk" in 1920.

FATHER-IN-LAW IN WAY

But why does Mr. McAdoo thrust aside the crown of leadership again? The explanation given by some McAdoo supporters who of course, do not care to have their names mentioned is that he is influenced today by the same combination of circumstances as were said to have made his course difficult in 1920, namely, uncertainty over the position of his distinguished father-in-law, Woodrow Wilson. It is an open secret that Mr. Wilson wanted the San Francisco convention to renominate him. This suggestion was carried to convention circles by a member of the Wilson cabinet who also remarked that Mr. Wilson would be deeply appreciative of the compliment but would probably decline. Mr. McAdoo is believed to have been unwilling to place himself in the position of interfering with such a contest.

All the stories of revived strength and better health which have been coming from Wilsonian quarters in recent months, are interpreted as part of an effort to convince the public that Mr. Wilson can come back. The activity of Mrs. Wilson in Democratic women's affairs is pointed to as evidence of a belief that may be the Democratic party should do in 1924 what it failed to do in 1920.

The theory that Woodrow Wilson would like the nomination is accepted in Democratic circles largely because such is the desire of most ex-presidents. Grover Cleveland in 1896 didn't give the "go ahead" signal to John Carlisle or Richard Olney, two members of his cabinet, until it was too late and William Jennings Bryan grabbed the nomination. Every ex-president since has been a candidate for reelection — Messrs. Roosevelt, Taft and Wilson. And every candidate who has been unsuccessful, namely Messrs. Bryan and Cox have been hoping they would be chosen again.

Mr. and Mrs. McAdoo are guests at the home of former President Wilson and it is perfectly natural for the former secretary of the treasury to eschew talk of his candidacy. He has, however, visited the principal Democratic leaders while in Washington, something, however, that he can deny has any significance for any prominent Democrat who comes to town does that but it is noticeable that whenever Mr. McAdoo appears on the scene some of his former henchmen get busier than ever. In fact, while he isn't here, they keep up a constant discussion of Mr. McAdoo's chances and generally indulge in pre-convention strategy.

CAPPER FARM BILL DUE FOR BALLOT TODAY

Added Amendment Would Authorize 50 Per Cent Value Loan

BULLETIN
By Associated Press
Washington—Half of the farm credits program was completed by the senate Friday when it passed the Capper bill providing for cooperative credit associations and other measures for long time loans to farmers.

Washington—The Capper bill, first of the farm credit measures, was before the Senate for final action Friday with debate ending at 2 o'clock under a unanimous consent agreement late Thursday. A vote with almost if not quite unanimous support on the measure said to be assured, was scheduled to follow the ending of discussion.

An amendment offered by Senator Trammel, Democrat, of Florida, authorizing loans on farm real estate up to 50 per cent of its value by the cooperative associations provided for in the bill was pending for disposal when the senate convened Friday. All other amendments offered Thursday were defeated.

Deputies In Paris Hold Fist Battle

Paris—Blackened eyes and swollen lips were in evidence in the chamber of deputies Friday as reminders of Thursday night's stormy session when the chamber, after one of the liveliest scenes in its history, voted to suspend parliamentary immunity of Marcel Cachin, the communist member.

The trouble started when a special commission that had investigated Cachin's alleged movements in the Ruhr, recommended suspension of his immunity so that he might be prosecuted. This brought a quick response from the radicals and there was such a lively cross fire among the members that the vice president was obliged to halt the session temporarily.

When the chamber was again called to order the confusion increased and the Communist members started in a body for the chair.

Prince Joachim Murat, who recently won the plaudits of his fellow deputies of a right of a fist encounter with M. Evraud, the radical, hastened to lead his faction to the defense of the chairman and then the fists began to fly.

Order was not restored until a corps of ushers had parted the combatants. The deputies then passed the motion to suspend Cachin's immunity.

LAYS BRIDGE FIRES TO 'POOR ENGINEERS'

Stone Denies That Strikes Are To Blame For Arson In Arkansas

By Associated Press
Chicago—Warren S. Stone, grand chief of the engineers union, declared here that "poor engineering" was due in many cases for the burning of bridges on the Missouri and North Arkansas railroad where a "citizens committee" has organized to investigate and prosecute acts of sabotage.

Relief engineers replacing the strikers, had caused the burning in many instances, Stone said, through neglect of fire pans, causing live coals to fall on the bridge timbers as the train passed. Stone and other Brotherhood chiefs denied that another meeting of the unions involved in the strike would be held here soon.

Harrison, Ark.—After several days of disturbances following a rounding up of alleged strikers and strike sympathizers charged with bridge burnings and other depredations along the line of the Missouri and North Arkansas railroad by the self styled "committee of 1,000," Harrison Friday was awaiting the opening of the investigation by the joint executive committee next Monday at Little Rock.

With the arrest Thursday of suspects indicted on charges with arson and announcement that a total of 30 indictments had been returned by the grand jury, no further developments have been reported in the late hour. Further arrests however, are expected Friday.

Belden who accepted the plea did not announce when Schlecht would be sentenced.

Filmdom Mourns End Of Wally Reid

Movie Star Loses Battle In Fight Against Dope—Dies In Wife's Arms After Long Struggle

By Associated Press
Los Angeles — Filmdom Friday mourned the passing Thursday of Wallace Reid, motion picture star, whose death ended his long battle for health after abandoning the use of habit forming drugs.

His death came as he lay in the arms of his wife, known in the screen world as Dorothy Davenport and just after he had napped in semi-delirium, "God—please." He had been unconscious for many hours but in his last talk with his wife when his mind was clear, he seemed to be aware, relatives said, that death was almost upon him.

At that time, he said, "tell them I have come back." He had affectionately called his wife "Mamma" since the birth of their son "Billy," five years ago. Representatives of all phases of motion picture work offered their sympathy to his widow, little "Billy" and the tiny daughter, the Reids adopted some time ago. Tributes to the dead actor were many.

"We have lost one of our greatest stars," said Jesse Lasky.

Some of the tributes of movie stars were: "I cannot express the grief and sorrow I feel."—Charlie Chaplin. "My heartfelt sympathy goes out to Mrs. Reid."—Harold Lloyd. "This one of the saddest things I have ever known."—Theodore Roberts.

"He was a charming boy with great genius."—Mary Pickford. "The motion picture has sustained an irreparable loss."—Douglas Fairbanks.

Plan Public Bon Fire To Clear "Bob"

By Associated Press
Madison—Public burning of the "round robin" signed during the war by several hundred university of Wisconsin professors denouncing the war record of United States Senator Robert M. LaFollette is ordered by a resolution introduced into the senate of the Wisconsin legislature Friday by Henry A. Huber, administration leader in the upper house.

This resolution endorsed by Governor J. J. Blaine and backed by LaFollette forces in control of the legislature directed the librarian of the state historical society to turn over the document containing the signatures of the university professors to the superintendent of public property, who is ordered to destroy it.

A public demonstration in connection with the burning is planned by the LaFollette backers, if the resolution introduced by Senator Huber is adopted. It is the first of the moves planned by the administration to publicly clear the war record of the senior Wisconsin senator.

SENATE SUBPENAS SINCLAIR, OIL KING

By Associated Press
Washington—An announcement was made by Chairman LaFollette of the senate oil investigating committee upon convening of the committee Friday that the examination of property of Harry P. Sinclair would be suspended until his appearance Monday in response to the subpoena issued Thursday night by direction of the committee.

Chairman LaFollette read into the record a statement he had prepared reviewing the circumstances of the clash between him and Mr. Sinclair Thursday during which the oil man refused to produce the complete records of Hyva corporation, a Sinclair owned private investment company, but said he willingly would give the committee any records bearing upon the subject under investigation.

Luxor, Egypt—What is believed to be the oldest specimens of canned beef in the world have been discovered by excavators in the tomb of King Tutankhamun. While it was not wholly palatable, being 3,350 years old, the meat is in an excellent state of preservation.

The meat has been embalmed and was contained in elliptical receptacles resembling huge Easter eggs, 40 of which were removed from the tomb amid a crowd of tourists. Still other meats found were mounds of venison, trussed ducks and joints of game. These were packed in wooden boxes, shaped according to the nature of the contents. Notable among this discovery was a giant duck.

The excavators also removed Friday four bronze candlesticks of great beauty. One of them contained a perfectly preserved candle.

ATTACK MORALS OF MAN FACING MURDER CHARGE

By Associated Press
Charles City, Ia.—With only one or two defense rebuttal witnesses to testify Friday forenoon, prospects were bright when court opened at 9 o'clock that arguments in the trial of B. V. Keesken, accused of killing Irene and Charles Van Brooklin in their cabin near Castalia on Dec. 11, 1921 would be well underway before noon. The case is expected to go to the jury late Saturday afternoon.

The state rested its case at 4:30 Thursday afternoon after seven witnesses from Castalia and Eastlan, Keesken's home locality, took the stand and attacked the defendant's reputation for morals. It is bad, each one stated. This move by the state was obviously a surprise to the defense.

DENIES MISSION REPORT

Two reports of efforts toward mediation in the Franco-German situation were read with interest by Londoners Friday.

OFFICIAL GUMS MOVEMENT OF COAL TRAINS

General Stoppage Of Freight Expected Today To Balk Invading Frenchmen

THE EUROPEAN SITUATION
French threats to enforce reparations payments by confiscations were made good Friday by the seizure of several state mines in the Ruhr valley and various Reichsbank branches. Mine managers and directors were arrested in some cases. Additional German resistance to French effort to ship coal developed in the refusal of the Essen district railway administration to dispatch coal trains. Orders for a strike of all the freight railwaymen in the Ruhr were received from Berlin and a general strike of these employees was expected before night. The French took possession of the customs and coal tax funds. The state forests also were seized.

BULLETIN
London—A general strike of the freight railwaymen throughout the Ruhr is expected Friday afternoon. Orders for the strike were received from Berlin Friday morning by the railroad workers and at about the same time the French military leaders were in session with the orders before them. The French expect them to repudiate their promise to continue work and obey the instructions from Berlin.

REFUSES TO DISPATCH TRAINS

Essen—The president of the district railway administration of Essen refused Friday to dispatch coal trains, rejecting the French demands for shipments.

LITTLE FRUITS FOR FRENCH

Berlin—After a week of France's "economic grip" in the Ruhr it seemed here Friday that M. Coste and General Delecluse had received little more than their trouble for their pains in their attempts to enforce reprisals. A few coal barges intercepted here and there and an occasional train re-assigned were the only fruits of the occupation apparent in the capital. Indeed, it was said that more coal was shipped Thursday to places outside of the occupied area than on Tuesday. It is feared that the reluctance of shippers to move coal on the Rhine in the face of confiscation by the French may result in a complete shutting off of the domestic supply.

So far one of the chief effects of the occupation noted here has been the whirlwind taken by the mark which was accompanied by the raising of the Reichsbank discount rate from 10 per cent to 12. It is pointed out that such a momentous event as the outbreak of the world war served to increase the rate only one point from 5 to 6 per cent.

Officials and workmen of the state railroads have been forbidden to cooperate in any way with the efforts of France and Belgium to get coal out of the Ruhr.

SEIZE MINE, MONEY

Essen—Seizure of state mines in the Ruhr by the forces of occupation was begun Friday. The Bergmanns-glueck and Westerhold pits near Euer were occupied by the military and Manager Ahrens was arrested for refusing to deliver coke. Troops appeared at the Moeller pits at Gladbeck and at the Rheinbaben mines at Bottrop.

The French authorities Friday appropriated the money in the Duesseldorf branch of the Reichsbank. They also rounded up the automobiles of depositors who had come to the bank to draw money from the institution, seized the money and retained possession of the automobiles.

A demand was made by the occupation authorities for detail of 40 police to close the streets adjoining the bank but the municipality refused to supply the men.

WEAKENING IS CLAIM
The announcement that the custom and foreign control to be inaugurated immediately in the Rhineland would be promulgated shortly in the Ruhr brought forth the comment in German circles that the French military authorities were reluctant to apply such penalties in the newly occupied area. Delay in enforcement of the measures here is regarded by the Germans as a sign of weakness. They declare that the Rhinelanders having submitted without a murmur to four years of occupation are now the first to be thus punished.

C. OF C. LOOKS UP FIVE INDUSTRIES ASKING LOCATION

Industrial Committee Making Investigation—Peddler Measure Approved

Officers of five industries which desire to locate in Appleton are being investigated, according to a report submitted by Seymour Gmeiner, chairman of the industrial committee, at the biweekly dinner and meeting of directors of the chamber of commerce in Conway hotel Thursday evening.

In each instance there appears to be a plan to sell a large block of stock. Mr. Gmeiner says, suggestions are being offered relative to locations and buildings and other information is to be supplied relative to the city's advantages. The financial standing of the promoters and nature of their products are being investigated.

Approval was given by the directors to work of the special committee which is drafting a proposed ordinance for regulation of transient merchants and peddlers. The committee was told to draft a measure that is fair and conservative, based on the laws of other cities. This will be submitted to the common council with a request for its consideration.

PLAN FOR ANNUAL MEETING
The annual meeting in March was discussed and it is possible that a special session of the board will be called to make plans and select a speaker.

A letter from Julius Barnes, president of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States was read and its suggestions approved. One was to suggest a plan by which members of the Appleton chamber may become familiar with the research and service privileges each has at Washington. The other suggested placing of an album in the office of each chamber showing stages in construction of the $2,500,000 home for American business at the national capital. This plan would enable Appleton people to become familiar with the structure and its purposes. Secretary Hugh G. Corbett will prepare suggestions of the local chamber on these matters, to be submitted to Mr. Barnes.

No representative will be appointed to accompany the Illinois business men's delegation to Washington in the interest of a ship subsidy, the directors decided. No expression had been obtained from the membership here on this legislation, and the board did not feel itself capable of voicing the sentiment of the entire organization.

CHIEF ENGINEER GAINS BIG POLICY

Declares Tanlac Built Him Up 24 Pounds and He Passed Examination In Fine Shape

"Before taking Tanlac I was in no condition to apply for life insurance, but I have built myself up twenty-four pounds with this medicine and have just recently taken out a ten thousand dollar policy, and the physician who examined me says there's no mistaking my fine physical status now. The report showed my health a hundred per cent perfect and it made me feel good all over."

The above statement was made, a few days ago, by John Douglas, 1245 State-st., Milwaukee, Wis., chief engineer at the Hotel Wisconsin, one of the newest, largest and most up-to-date hostels in Milwaukee.

"For a year or more," said Mr. Douglas, "I had suffered from loss of appetite, indigestion and nervousness. I would toss and roll for hours at night and get up mornings only half rested. I was troubled with headaches, felt tired and sluggish, and had lost considerable of my old time energy and strength. But since taking Tanlac I simply feel good to my finger tips. I eat what I want, sleep fine at night, and don't know what it is to feel tired any more. There's nothing too good I can say for Tanlac." Tanlac is for sale by all good druggists. NO PROSECUTION IN BABY BURIAL CASE

Authorities Still Investigating Case Concerning Burk Infant

District Attorney John A. Lonsdorf reports that there are no new developments in the investigation of the circumstances of the death of Miss Etta Burk's infant child found buried under a chicken coop in her father's back yard in Kaukauna last month.

He says, however, that if no cause is found for prosecution on serious charges, a minor charge is likely to be preferred against the persons involved. The child was buried without a burial permit.

The body of the baby was exhumed on Dec. 21 after it was learned that there was some contradiction in the report of the place of burial in municipal court in Oshkosh. His bail was set at $500. Konzelman's hearing will be held at 10 o'clock.

The seven Menasha men whose places were raided also were bound over for trial in the Oshkosh municipal court.

POULTRY ENTRIES BREAK ALL RECORDS

Chicken And Corn Show Now Definitely Appears Biggest Ever Arranged

Officers of Fox River Poultry & Pet Stock association claim that the poultry show to be given at the armory Jan. 24-25 will be the biggest one in the history of the association. They base their prediction on the number of entries that have already been received from all over the state and from neighboring cities.

A large number of entries have been received also for the corn show to be held in connection with it. It is two years since the last corn show, and as the corn crop was an exceptionally good one last fall the exhibitors promise to be among the finest ever seen in the county. Nearly $200 is offered in prizes.

One of the attractions at the poultry show will be a brood of baby chicks and their mother which belong to William Struck, Second-st. Mr. Struck hatched 11 healthy chicks out of a setting of 12 eggs which is unusual at this time of the year. Several guinea pigs also will be exhibited.

McMillan spoke on prohibition. He used recent statistical reports to show that prohibition has been a big success as far as it has been able to go.

Mrs. G. K. Lyman of Montana, who attended both the national and international Women's Christian Temperance union conventions was present and made a few remarks. A musical program and several readings were given.

DEPOT HOLDUP TOLD TO JURY BY SCHMIDT

Northwestern Ticket Agent Is First Witness In Trial Involving Robbery

After the drawing of three panels from which to select the municipal court jury now trying Elmer Schmidt, one of the ticket agents of the main Northwestern station, for larceny, the case was recessed by Judge A. M. Spencer Friday noon until 2 o'clock.

The selection of a jury lasted from 9 o'clock Thursday morning until about 3 o'clock that afternoon. Seven jurors were selected from the first panel, two from the second and three from the third. When recess was declared, Schmidt, the first witness for the defense, was still on the stand and had not yet been cross-examined by the state's attorneys.

Schmidt in his testimony told practically the same story he had told the police before he was arrested. He said he was engaged in reading a newspaper, when he heard a knock on the door and the command, "Open up, Schmidt." When the person answered in the affirmative to Schmidt's question, "Is it you, Walter?" he was admitted.

SAW TWO BANDITS
The ticket agent was then confronted by two bandits, he testified, only one of whom he could describe. This man was dressed in a gray, greasy macintosh and a gray cap and wore a long, black, satin mask. He said, Branishing a 32-caliber revolver, the bandit commanded the agent to open the safe. After he had opened the first door and was somewhat slow in opening the second, the man said, "I'll give you just three minutes to open that safe." The money that was taken contained about $502 in bills and silver, the defendant testified.

Among the witnesses introduced by John A. Lonsdorf, district attorney, and Fred V. Heinemann, former district attorney, was Miss Katherine Burdett, waitress in Henry Lillie's lunch room, near the Northwestern station. Miss Burdett testified that she had seen Schmidt on the morning of the robbery enter the restaurant and flash a large roll of bills and a revolver.

DETECTIVE IN STAND
R. L. Krouse, a Northwestern railroad detective, while on the stand told of a business offer he had made to Schmidt of starting a taxicab business in Kaukauna. Schmidt was to contribute $500 to the business, an offer that is said to have appealed to Schmidt. Other witnesses for the state were J. W. Blue and M. J. Moran, railroad detectives, and Frank Kraft, a taxicab driver.

URGE MOTHERS TO USE CHILD CLINIC

Committees of the health department of Appleton Women's club are busy calling mothers asking them to bring babies to the health clinic on school age to the health clinic on Tuesday at Appleton Women's club room. The clinic is conducted by the state and a doctor is sent here once a month to examine pre-school age children and give advice to their mothers.

Every effort is being made to reach all children of this age in the city. More than 80 were taken care of at the first two-day clinic and more than 30 the next time, but those are only a small percentage of the total number of children under six years of age. The clinic is free and all mothers are urged to bring their small children any time between 9 and 5 o'clock on Tuesday.

LOWER COSTS, AIM OF DRY GOODS MEN

Have You Piles?

Then You Have Something To Learn

Thousands who have piles have not learned that quick and permanent relief can only be accomplished with internal medicine. Neither cutting nor any amount of treatment with ointments and suppositories will remove the cause.

Bad circulation causes piles. There is a complete stagnation of blood in the lower bowel and a weakening of the parts. Dr. J. S. Leonhardt was first to find the remedy. His prescription, HEM-ROID, is now sold by all druggists. Dr. Leonhardt tried it in 1000 cases with the marvelous record of success in 98 per cent and then decided it should be sold under a rigid money-back guarantee.

Don't waste any more time with outside applications. Get a package of HEM-ROID from Schintz Bros. Co. today. It has given safe and lasting relief to thousands and should do the same for you — it seldom fails. adv.

Clay Did This A white, refined super-clay By Edna Wallace Hopper

My complexion is the envy of countless young girls, and the marvel of millions of women.

For, remember, I am not a girl. I have been for 31 years a stage star and am still. Yet my skin is just as soft and rosy, just as smooth and blooming, as 40 years ago.

Every friend I have, on the stage and in society, has attained like results in my way.

A new-type clay
You read much now about complexion clays. But they are crude clays—natural clays—like I used years ago.

A French beauty expert first told me about them, when few women used them. Some of those women became the marvels of nations for their wonderful complexions.

Now countless women use them—every woman who wants to look her best. Clay is beauty's prime essential. Women who omit clay cannot hope to compare with women who employ it.

My exceptional results come from new-type clay, perfected by 20 years of scientific study. It is white, refined and dainty. And, compared with old-type clays, it brings manifold effects.

Edna Wallace Hopper's White Youth Clay
At all drug stores—50c and $1 per tube

Where it excels
My Youth Clay is prepared for me by scientists who have spent many years in clay study. They have compared all effective clays by analysis and by results.

They have added factors which give the clay a multiplied effect.

They have found ways to refine it. Instead of crude and muddy clay, they make it white, clean, dainty.

Youth clay will be a revelation to you, as it was to me. I thought I knew all that clay can do, but I did not know one tenth.

It brings a new complexion, and at once. Blackheads and pimples disappear before it. Dull skins gain a rosy bloom. Wrinkles become smooth. Many women seem to drop ten years with one application.

My gift to women
I am taking time in my busy life to tell my beauty secrets. And I have arranged to supply all women the very help I need.

I searched the world to find them. I spent a fortune to obtain them. But they made me a famous beauty. And now, at a grandmother's age, I keep that beauty still. Now I feel I owe to others the benefits I got. My Youth Clay is my greatest help. Go get it for beauty's sake.

SOBRIETY AFFECTS THE THEATER.

Shakespeare is popular. The statement may awaken little surprise in the "provinces," where Shakespeare always has been popular, but this is in the theatrical center of the country, usually most devoted to the frivolous, modern and ephemeral in drama.

There are four Shakespearean plays in the metropolis now, all making money, and there are at least four more to come, as soon as they can find theaters. Never before has there been anything like that. People fight for tickets to "Hamlet" and "The Merchant of Venice" as if they were "The Follies."

"How do you account for it?" A dramatic writer asked Arthur Hopkins, a producer who has two of these highly successful classical productions on Broadway.

"Prohibition" was the reply. "Prohibition has changed the mood of New York theater-goers. After a more or less dry dinner—for despite bootlegging activities, there is much less drinking at the dinner table than there was a few years ago—people are in the mood to see serious plays; and as they can see their favorite stars in Shakespearean plays, they choose them in preference to other plays."

"If well-to-do New Yorkers dined as they used to, I doubt if more than one Shakespearean revival could prosper on Broadway. More than half of every Broadway audience dines out before the play. This is evident, as more than one-third of every Broadway audience is made up of out-of-town people. When one has dined well, a light comedy or musical show is to his liking. When he has dined soberly, he welcomes a show with real substance to it."

This sort of thing was prophesied when prohibition arrived, but the prophecy was not taken seriously. Now the facts speak for themselves. And if more sober people are ready to patronize better plays, they are probably also ready to patronize better music, better books, better art, better education and a better manner of life generally.

A WELCOME RELIEF TO EVERYBODY

Congress evidently is going to have a good long vacation this year. There is every indication that President Harding, when the present congress dies a natural death on March 3, will allow the constitutional period to elapse before its successor meets in regular session in December. That will eliminate the special summer session to which the country has become accustomed in recent years. There has been no such prolonged legislative gap since 1915. The sixty-seventh congress, now ending, has been in session almost continuously since April 31, 1921.

The unwillingness of the president to call a special session this summer, and the consequent postponement of action until next December by the congress elected last November, will disappoint those who believe that a legislative body should begin as quickly as possible after an election to obey whatever popular mandate has been given. There is much to say for that view, if one believes in democracy. There is also something to say for the view that the country, and particularly the business part of the country, needs a period of relief from legislative action and change.

Whether good or bad, every new piece of legislation is likely to be rather unsettling at first, and there is never any knowing what a group of law-makers will do next. Business needs a chance to adjust itself to new conditions. If the present congress finishes its work in good shape before adjournment, there is no question that the country, like the president, will welcome a prolonged congressional vacation with a sense of relief.

RED LAWS IN MEXICO

President Obregon's action in expelling from Mexico a delegate of the Catholic church is directly in line with the Mexican constitutional provisions subordinating all religious activities in that country. Catholics and Protestants alike, to a rigid control by the state. There is no other nation on earth possessing this form of supervision, which has grown out of a fear on the part of the Mexican people that "clericalism" and outside interference of large church bodies might come to dominate the country.

Mexico's strange and unique constitution guarantees religious freedom but within definite limits—public worship has to be conducted strictly within the church confines. The apostolic delegate expelled by executive order held out-of-door service. Another peculiar provision of the constitution is that none but a Mexican by birth can be a minister of any religious creed in the republic, though this section does not seem to have been applied. All church property in Mexico now belongs to the nation; no church, whether Catholic or Protestant, can conduct any public or private institutions for the sick or poor, or for education; the state and not the church determines the number of churches which can be built and the number of ministers to be hired; no church marriage is valid and every couple must be wed by a civil officer. These provisions have been very pleasing to the syndicalists and reds of every type, who have been active in religious riots resulting in many fatalities and in the growth of a Fascist movement like that of Italy. The expelled delegate is said to have been an instigator of this anti-bolshevist uprising.

AUTO THEFTS ON THE DECREASE

A midwestern city which has suffered much in recent years at the hands of automobile thieves has recently reported, through its police department, that the number of automobiles stolen in 1923 was 840 fewer than the number of those stolen in 1920. Enough cars were recovered so that the final losses to owners dropped from 632 to 137. The figures may be regarded as evidence of progress in theft-prevention, because the population of the city increased heavily during the same period, and the use of automobiles increased proportionately.

Automobile thievery has presented a grave situation in recent years. Its attendant evils of banditry and accidents have been generally recognized. That is why automobile clubs in some places have lent generous aid to the police in a united effort to check the stealing and to round up the bands who combine auto-stealing with payroll robberies and murder.

INITIAL FINDINGS OF COAL COMMISSION

The United States Coal Commission brings out, in its first general report to congress, several interesting facts of practical value. It finds, for instance, that the distribution of coal, including transportation and marketing, costs more than production, and at times, exorbitant profits have been taken by operators, wholesalers and retailers. In this respect, at least, the coal industry is faulty the same as most industries, for the cost of distribution is generally the chief cause of high prices.

The commission decided that the three periods of high prices since 1916 were periods of labor troubles, and it gives warning that "collective bargaining must rest on reason, rather than force," and repetition of these crises would result in federal regulation. The number of miners has increased in the past few years, and it is now 200,000 in excess of the demand. The present mining force is capable of turning out 250,000,000 tons of coal a year, or more than the United States and foreign countries take from our fields at the maximum demand.

Another important point mentioned in the report is the necessity for satisfactory adjustment of transportation. The railroads are obliged to move an enormous coal tonnage at the time, in autumn, when commerce and agriculture are at the transportation peak. The most pleasing, the most assuring feature of the first report is the evident intention of the commission to be fair and candid. The language shows that the commission is not desirous of becoming popular, but aims to find real facts and tell them clearly and impartially to the people. The public wants information and suggestions, and it wishes to be fair to both operators and miners. The remedies may not be easy to apply under the most favorable circumstances, but they will be adopted the more readily if they bear the marks of good faith and justice.

Health Talks

BY WILLIAM BRADY, M. D.

Noted Physician and Author

Dr. Brady will answer all signed letters pertaining to health. Writers' names are never printed. Only inquiries of general interest are answered in this column, but all letters will be answered by mail. If written in ink and a stamped, self-addressed envelope is enclosed, letters for diagnosis or treatment of individual cases cannot be considered. Address Dr. William Brady, in care of this paper.

BORIC ACID

Slightly more than half an ounce of boric acid will dissolve in a pint of boiled water, about an ounce will dissolve in a pint of alcohol, and about one and one-half ounces will dissolve in a pint of glycerine. When all that will dissolve has been taken up the solution is said to be "saturated."

A saturated water solution of boric acid makes a comparatively efficient, nonpoisonous and nonirritating antiseptic solution for general purposes. As a gargle and mouthwash boric acid solution is, in any judgment, superior to any other preparation. There is some reason to believe that boric acid is particularly efficacious in discouraging the growth and multiplication of that ubiquitous enemy of our modern cave dwellers, the Pneumococcus, the germ responsible for so many of the respiratory infections vulgarly known as "colds" and for so many complications or sequels of such infections, such as valvular disease, appendicitis, arthritis and the like.

For use as eye drops, if a nonirritating antiseptic is needed for a time, as in acute conjunctivitis (inflamed eyelids) or injuries of the eye, the saturated water solution may be used, a few drops in the eye every hour or two, at a comfortable temperature. As an eye wash, the saturated water solution is usually diluted with its own volume of boiled water, and freely run through the lid space over the eyeball at about body warmth, as often as desired. This same diluted boric acid solution may be used as a spray for the nasal passages, and some victims of hay fever extol it as the best medicine for relief.

A saturated solution of boric acid is commonly used to keep feeding nipples in the nipple being rinsed with plain boiled water before use.

The saturated alcoholic solution of boric acid enjoys some deserved reputation as a remedy for chronic running ear, a few drops, at a comfortable warmth, being dropped in the ear canal two or three times a day over a period of six to eight weeks.

Probably there is no better treatment for common canker sores in the mouth than (1) touching each canker sore once daily with equal parts of glycerine and tincture of iodine, (2) discontinuing brushing the teeth and (3) rinsing the mouth carefully before and after eating with a saturated water solution of boric acid at about body warmth.

Boric acid water solution may be used to moisten the hot moist compress to render the dressing antiseptic, in cases of boils or infected or suppurating wounds.

The liberal use of boric acid powder in the shoes will cure foul sweating of the feet. The feet of stockings may be saturated with boric acid solution and allowed to dry.

Boric acid will accomplish all that any of the popular but poisonous antiseptics can accomplish in domestic medicine, and I urge every householder who reads this to clean house now before some dreadful mistake happens. Such mistakes can't happen when boric acid is the antiseptic relied upon.

Maple Log Gun Dismal Failure

(Lew A. Baker, in Adventure Magazine.)

One of the most peculiar pieces of ordnance ever invented, as well as one of the most unsatisfactory in its results of a design probably never used again, at least by the same persons—was that which was tried for its sole occasion at the storming of Port Henry, in what is now West Virginia, by Simon Girty, the famous renegade, and his several hundred Indian followers, on Sept. 1, 1777.

All day long, without success, and with considerable loss, the savages and their still more savage leader had been attempting to carry the little stockade with its handful of defenders. Night had settled down, and their patience was short, when some inventive genius amongst them suggested the making out of a hollow log of artillery with which to batter down the stubborn walls. Probably, never before or since has such a cannon been seen.

A maple log, already hollowed by the process of time, was bound with chains, plugged at the breech with wood, filled to the muzzle with stones, pieces of iron and other missiles. It was then conveyed to within 60 yards of the gate and discharged. Alas, the result was most unexpected and disappointing. The log burst into a thousand pieces, its fragments scattering in all directions, incidentally killing several of the attackers, but not a picket of the fort was injured.

Artist Weds Girl Adopted As Daughter

(From the San Francisco Chronicle.)

Behind the announcement several days ago of the marriage of Carlton Gardelle, world-known sculptor, and his adopted daughter, Yvonne Gardelle, lies a story of an attachment which began as platonic friendship but which with the years blossomed into love and matrimony.

When Yvonne was a little girl in the Latin quarter of Paris years ago Gardelle adopted her as his own daughter and took her to Chicago, where he studied under the famous sculptor, Laredo Taft.

The little girl grew into a beauty, and her lovely features and form are seen in Gardelle's "Kiss" and "Kissing Fountain," and also in sculpturing which he executed for the Panama-Pacific International Exposition.

Then Ziegfeld's Follies got her for a spell. Two years ago she was married to Roy L. Brooks, Chicago bond broker, but divorced him with the threat, "Never again." A season in the pictures at Hollywood followed, where she had a part in "Kismet." Recently Yvonne was declared to have "the most beautiful neck in America."

On the third day of last August Gardelle again stepped into the picture with a marriage license, and the wedding took place at Las Vegas, Nev. Mrs. Gardelle is in her early twenties. Gardelle has passed his fortieth birthday.

NICHOLS WILL SOON HAVE NEW $65,000 HOTEL

Work Is Started On Fireproof Structure—About 50 Homes Will Be Built

Special to Post-Crescent
Nichols—Another large building is to be built here in addition to the new factories that are under erection. It is a $65,000 fireproof hotel. Construction of 40 or 50 homes also will start soon.

Edward Walters of St. Paul, Minn., is the owner of the hotel and also is the contractor erecting the building. A large hotel and additional homes are made necessary because of the anticipated influx of a large number of workers who will be employed in the All-American Steel Casket company's plant and in others to be started here.

The site for the hotel has been surveyed. The first stake was driven by Hugh Fraser. The building will be strictly modern and of brick and tile construction, making it fireproof. Each room will have hot and cold running water and steam heat. Eight rooms will have private baths. There will be a tile floor in the lobby and the plans include a large fireplace.

Billiard and sample rooms will occupy the hotel basement. Part of the first floor will be arranged for a drug store, barber shop and tailor shop.

NEW VAULT DOOR FOR BANK WEIGHS NEARLY SIX TONS

Burglars Will Have Plenty Of Difficulty Getting At Valuables

Kaukauna—The vault door for the new Farmers and Merchants bank has been installed. The door is of massive construction, weighing nearly six tons. The solid section of the door is six inches thick but with the frame included is eleven and three-fourths inches thick. The solid portion is made up of a one inch layer of open hearth steel, a one inch layer of drill proof steel, three inches of nonburnable steel and another layer of open hearth steel. The outside of the entire door and frame is of draw file steel finish with nickel plated trimmings. There are 20 locking bolts each three inches in diameter. The material used in the door was tested several weeks ago in Herman Mueller's welding shop and was found to be non-burnable. The strongest heat possible to obtain hardly created a dent in the steel after several hours of effort.

Workers are just finishing the interior plastering of the new building. The place will then be cleared up and the decorative beams will be put into place. After that the woodwork will be completed and the marble floor laid. It is expected the building will be ready for occupancy about March 1.

GIRLS IN NEED OF CAMP FOR SUMMER

Girl Scouts And Camp Fire
Girls Name Joint Committee
To Work Out Plan

Where and how the girl scouts and camp fire girls will camp this summer will be decided within a month when a committee appointed from both the girl scout and camp fire organizations makes a report at the next joint meeting of the executive committees. Camping was the only matter of business discussed at the joint meeting at Appleton Women's club on Wednesday evening.

Miss Emily Adams, who is commissioner of both scout and camp fire activities in Appleton, brought the matter before the committees for discussion. She said better facilities for camping should be provided for the younger girls and that she favored the tent colony camping because of its splendid training possibilities. It was Miss Adams' opinion that the equipment for a girls' camp which would accommodate 50 scouts or camp fire girls for each in the summer week would not cost more than $500 or $600. Location of such a camp was discussed only incidentally, as the primary consideration was whether enough money could be raised to make the camp possible.

The matter of equipment, cost and location was referred to a committee which will go into the possibilities thoroughly during the next month. H. P. Buck, Miss Isabel Milhaupt and Mrs. George Gilman will represent the scouts on that committee and Mrs. Herman Getschow, Dr. James Reeve and Miss Laura Rogers will represent the camp fire girls. There are 225 girl scouts and camp fire girls in Appleton.

CAN'T DUMP SNOW ON OSHKOSH ROAD

Winnebago-co District Attorney
Takes Steps To Keep Highway Open

Winnebago-co is taking steps, through D. K. Allen, district attorney, to prevent the concrete highway on route 15 between Neenah and Oshkosh from being dumped full of snow so traffic will be interrupted.

Mr. Allen has issued an open letter warning against practices which will block the roadway. Last year the owners of bus lines plowed the road open, the better said, and much of the snow fell onto the interurban tracks of Eastern Wisconsin Electric company. The plow and sweeper of the traction company then operated through that locality and the snow was heaped back on the highway. Conditions became such that the road was made impassable for several months.

The district attorney announces that the county is building a huge snow plow which will keep the road open if possible.

Potato Prices Will Go Sky High Next Year If Women Don't Use More

Housewives Are Asked To Furnish Recipes Which Will Encourage Greater Use Of Potatoes
While They Are Cheap

Not so long ago women were urged to win the war by saving in their kitchens. They tried it and Herbert Hoover said that it was a tremendous factor in solving the food problems of the nation.

Now, Wisconsin has a food problem and once more women can save the situation and incidentally save money on the household expenses from now until spring. Sounds good, doesn't it?

This is the way it can be done as suggested by an Appleton woman.

Send your potato recipes to the contest editor and help use up the surplus potato crop in Wisconsin. Learn to serve potatoes in an attractive way and save money on your household budget from now until the next potato crop. Sign your name to recipes and mail them at once to the contest editor, care of The Post-Crescent.

who has had many years experience as a housekeeper. You have heard of the Irish potato, far famed as the "Murphy" and the "spud." Well, the Irish potato is going through a crisis right now which may make it as scarce as it was in Ireland during the famine, if the women do not come to the rescue.

At the present time, you can buy all the potatoes you want for 55 cents a bushel. Many farmers have hundreds of bushels which they feel they cannot afford to market at this price. Next year they will not plant so many potatoes and next year Appleton housewives will have to pay twice as much if not more for a bushel of potatoes, unless they take care of the situation themselves.

If every housewife in Appleton would use more potatoes in planning her meals, more potatoes would be used this year and the enormous surplus in this state would not be entirely wasted. There are many appetizing ways of using potatoes, but most women can name on the fingers of one hand the ways they know how to cook them. With a little war-time cooperation, every woman in Appleton can help to save money for herself and use up the surplus food crop by sending her potato recipes to the contest editor of the Post-Crescent.

Beginning next week, the contest editor will publish the potato recipes which are sent in by Appleton women. Most women can boil potatoes, with or without the jackets on, most of them can mash them and some rice them, but that is as far as they go in the potato line. There are literally hundreds of ways and variations of ways to fix this food which will save money for the housekeeper from her household expenses.

Send in your recipe for potatoes au gratin, for scalloped potatoes in all its variations, and for creamed potato combinations. Send them in, talk about them, read about them and give the new preparations to your family to eat. By a little planning this year, the women without the assistance of the men (except the necessary eating process can use up the surplus of this splendid food supply and thus encourage the farmers to plant the necessary supply for next year.

Hear Talk on Trees

Troop No. 8, boy scouts, had a 100 per cent attendance at its meeting at the Congregational church Tuesday evening. At the close of the session the boys visited Lawrence college and listened to an address on trees and plants by a member of the faculty.

Head Away from Motor Troubles

Many motorists in Appleton are finding great satisfaction by using

SOLITE

GASOLINE

They find that they get smooth, easy action and instant response from their motor.

There is a good, satisfying answer—Solite drives the piston the full stroke under power. There is no incomplete slapping piston stroke to rack the engine as in some light gasolines that are not made properly.

Solite is made to fit the modern internal combustion engine—it is made according to the most approved methods.

It contains a perfect chain of boiling point fractions, correctly combined for maximum service.

Guess-work plays no part in the manufacture of Solite.

With Solite in the tank you get instant starting, even in severely cold weather, quick, snappy response, smooth, rhythmic power and racing speed, if you want it.

Solite is the best light gasoline you can buy, but it costs a little more than its famous companion, Red Crown Gasoline, which has proved its superiority for maximum power with economy.

Solite and Red Crown are made by the world-famous Burton Process, which has been cited so frequently for efficiency by the Department of the Interior, Bureau of Mines.

Solite burns clean and evenly; it is for the man who is willing to pay a little more for a highly volatile gasoline, and as such it has no superior.

Louis Graveure

© I. L. Hill

FOR the last seven years America has been enjoying to the full one of the most beautiful baritone voices that has ever fallen to the lot of man.

Louis Graveure is the possessor of this exceptional voice, on which, as if it were a rich toned musical instrument, he plays with a feeling and power that is as remarkable as it is rare.

Sonorous, of magnificent volume, liquidly flexible, of splendid range, it lends itself with consummate grace to the greatest operatic arias, the simplest English ballads or the passionate entreaty and faith of religious song.

GRAVEURE SINGS JANUARY 22ND

Lawrence Memorial Chapel

GO hear him and you, too, will acclaim him, as the critics have, "A vocalist so far ahead of other baritones as to seem representative of an altogether different art from theirs."

So enthralling is this renowned artist's singing that, having heard him, you will regret the concert's end. But it need not end for you. You can hear him as often as you wish through Columbia Records because Graveure has made many beautiful recordings of his splendid voice. Ask any Columbia Dealer to play Graveure's records for you. We suggest these selections as examples.

CLEAN KIDNEYS BY DRINKING LOTS OF WATER

Take Salts to Flush Kidneys If Bladder Bothers or Back
Hurts

Eating too much rich food may produce kidney trouble in some form, says a well-known authority, because the acids created excite the kidneys. Then they become overworked, get sluggish, clog up and cause all sorts of distress, particularly backache and misery in the kidney region, rheumatic twinges, severe headaches, acid stomach, constipation, torpid liver, sleeplessness, bladder and urinary irritation.

The moment your back hurts or kidneys aren't acting right, or if bladder bothers you, begin drinking lots of good water and also get about four ounces of Epsom salts from any good pharmacy; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys may then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for years to flush clogged kidneys and stimulate them to activity; also to neutralize the acids in the system so that they no longer irritate, thus often relieving bladder disorders.

Fact Salts cannot injure anyone; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which millions of men and women take now and then to help keep the kidneys and urinary organs clean, thus often avoiding serious kidney disorders. By all means have your physician examine your kidneys at least twice a year.

Please state all the essential facts and be sure of your facts when you write your items. Hundreds and hundreds of items have been discarded because they violated this rule. The only limitation on the number of items printed is the worthiness of the items submitted.

IT WAS A SERENADE DANCE

CAT IN THE BAG

I'd like to say a word about the people who are cruel to dumb animals. I was coming from the First ward skating rink on Wednesday evening when an automobile came speeding down the street. As it showed up to pass me, some one opened the door of the car and threw a bag out. I opened it and there was a big frightened cat. That is what I call a low down trick; why do people have pets if they cannot be decent to them?

WELL, SEE YOU IN CHURCH

Two Appleton young men made dates with two Menasha young women, but since the men did not know in which house on the street the girls lived, they agreed that the girls should leave the porch light burning until they came. The young men got off the car at the proper street and made their way toward the first lighted porch. They were ushered into the house, asked to remove their coats and shown to a room in which a number of people were sitting in a circle. They found themselves in the midst of a cottage prayer meeting.

ANOTHER FOOL HARDY BOY

A group of boys were playing "Stump the leader" on Lake-st bridge at noon on Thursday. I saw the leader climb onto the railing of the bridge which is probably 30 feet from the water and walk it for about 100 feet. The others in the crowd wisely did not follow his foolish example.

HE HAD A SELF STARTER

Tuesday evening I saw an elderly man stalled in his Ford sedan on Drew-st. He tried and tried to start the machine, looked at the gas and apparently found that there was enough. He sat there for a minute and then got out of the car and started for a nearby house. He just about reached the sidewalk when the engine in his car started. He rushed back, climbed in and rode away.

ON THE SCREEN

COMEDY AND DRAMA, LATEST MIX PICTURE

Starting next Sunday there will be shown at the Elite Theatre for a 2 day run, the Fox production, "Romance Land," starring Tom Mix. Advance reports received on this picture qualify it as an excellent entertainment. Acting, direction and photography are of a high caliber, and the picture according to the producer, is filled with dramatic incident and deft touches of comedy.

It is a story of a man and a maid who become inspired by the adventures set forth in Walter Scott's "Ivanhoe" and in the tales of King Arthur. They come to believe that chivalry and honor should be shown as in the days when knighthood was in flower.

The situations are said to be replete with excitement, and the entire plot well handled. If this screen effort is as good as the others in which Tom Mix has appeared, the Elite Theatre will play to capacity crowds, especially in view of the producer's promise of an exceptional photoplay.

"Is Matrimony A Failure?" which comes to Fischer's Appleton Theatre next Monday for 3 days, has an interest which commends itself to everyone. The subject is treated in the most humorous fashion and the cast interpreting it comprises such favorites as T. Roy Barnes, Lila Lee, Lois Wilson and Walter Hiers. It is a Paramount special comedy, adapted from a famous European farce entitled "The Open Door" by James Woods, and was directed by James Cruze.

PYORRHEA NO LONGER CONSIDERED INCURABLE

"Pyro-form" Proves Boon To Many Sufferers

Although many preparations for the relief of Pyorrhea have been placed on the market in the past, few have proved satisfactory as most of them offered temporary relief only. Recently, however, the manufacturers of a new remedy called "Pyro-form" have come out with the statement that it will banish Pyorrhea from the mouth permanently. They have backed up the statement with a positive money-back guarantee.

"Pyro-form" has actually proved successful in many cases of Pyorrhea where all hope of saving the teeth had been abandoned. This remedy penetrates to the very roots of the teeth and kills all germs as well as removing the pus formations. In addition, it strengthens the gums. "Pyro-form" can be obtained at Voigt Drug Co.

Any breaking out of the skin, even fiery, itching eczema, can be quickly overcome by applying a little Mentho-Sulphur, says a noted skin specialist. Because of its germ destroying properties, this sulphur preparation instantly brings ease from skin irritation, soothes and heals the eczema, night up and leaves the skin clear and smooth.

It seldom fails to relieve the torment and disfigurement. Sufferers from skin trouble should get a little jar of Rowies Mentho-Sulphur from any good druggist and use it like a cold cream.

CAPTAIN BLOOD

ADAPT. NEA SERVICE

The Royal Mary—the vessel bearing that ingenious, tolerably accomplished, mildly dissolute, entirely elegant envoy made a good passage to St. Nicholas, her last port of call before Jamaica. It was understood that at a preliminary Lord Julian should report himself to the Deputy-Governor at Port Royal, whence at need he might have himself conveyed to Tortuga. Now it happened that the Deputy-Governor's niece had come to St. Nicholas some months earlier on a visit to some relatives, and so that she might escape the insufferable heat of Jamaica in that season. The time for her return being now at hand, a passage was sought for her aboard the Royal Mary, and in view of her uncle's rank and position promptly accepted.

Lord Julian hailed her advent with satisfaction. Miss Bishop was a young woman and a lady. On his side, with his title and position he bore about him the atmosphere of the great world that was little more than a name to her. It is not therefore wonderful that they should have been attracted to each other before the Royal Mary was warped out of St. Nicholas.

"I wonder now," he said, as they were sauntering on the poop, "if you ever saw this fellow Blood, who was at one time on your uncle's plantations as a slave."

"I saw him often. I knew him very well."

"And what manner of man did you find him?"

"In those days I esteemed him for an unfortunate gentleman."

"You were acquainted with his story?"

"He told it me. That is why I esteemed him—for the calm fortitude with which he bore adversity. His Lordship laughed a little. 'He has grown rich, I hear. His future father-in-law, M. d'Ogeron, has seen to that.'"

"His future father-in-law?" said she, and stared at him round-eyed, with parted lips. Then added: "M. d'Ogeron? The Governor of Tortuga?"

"The same. You see the fellow's well protected. And as for the girl, I'm told she's a wild piece, fit mate for such a man as Blood. He killed a man to win her."

"He killed a man for her, do you say?" There was horror now in her voice.

"Yes—a French buccaneer named Levasseur. He was the girl's lover and Blood's associate on a venture. Blood coveted the girl, and killed Levasseur to win her."

"Who told you?"

"A man who sailed with them, a Frenchman named Cahusac, whom I found in a waterside tavern in St. Nicholas."

She smiled a little crooked smile. "Such a man is best forgotten."

And upon that she passed at once to speak of other things.

On the second day out the Royal Mary met the mad-dog Spanish Admiral. The Captain of the Royal Mary was not disposed to be intimidated even when Don Miguel opened fire on him. But a lucky shot from the Milagrosa got among some powder stored in his fore-castle and blew up half his ship almost before the fight had started.

Before the men of the Royal Mary had recovered from their consternation, the Spaniards boarded her. In the Captain's cabin under the poop, to which Miss Bishop had been conducted for safety, Lord Julian was seeking to comfort and encourage her.

An then the cabin door flew open, and Don Miguel himself, tall, sun-burned, and aquiline of face, strode in. Lord Julian span round, to face him and clapped a hand to his sword.

The Spaniard was brisk and to the point.

"Don't be a fool," he said in his own tongue, "you come by a fool's end. Your ship is sinking."

They stayed no longer than was necessary to enable Miss Bishop to collect some spare articles of dress and my lord to snatch up his valise.

As for the survivors in that ghastly shambles that had been the Royal Mary, they were abandoned by the Spaniards to their own resources. If Lord Julian and Miss Bishop were retained, it was because Don Miguel perceived their obvious value. He received them in his cabin with great urbanity. Urbanely he desired to have the honor of being acquainted with their names.

Lord Julian, sick with horror of the spectacle he had just witnessed, commanded himself with difficulty to supply them. Then haughtily he demanded to know in his turn the name of their great aggressor.

"I am Don Miguel de Espinosa," he answered.

"I offer you no violence. On the contrary, I have saved your lives. . . . Don Miguel's smile persisted. 'Meantime it is your lives that will cost you dear. Colonel Bishop is a rich man; and you, my lord, are no doubt also rich. I will consider and fix your ransom.'"

CHAPTER XIX

The Meeting

The Milagrosa, with her escort, the Hidalgo rolling after her, ran straight into the arms of Captain Blood. That happened early on the following morning. Don Miguel came upon the Arabella at a time when, separated from the rest of the fleet, she was alone and at a disadvantage. Miss Bishop, newly risen, had come out to take the air on the quarter-deck with his lordship in attendance when she beheld the big red ship that had once been the Cinco Liagas out of Cadiz. The vessel was bearing down upon them, the long pennon with the cross of St. George fluttering from her main truck in the morning breeze.

They advanced to the poop-rail and watched the hostile. The Arabella was advancing well along a course which, if continued, must carry her straight between the two Spanish ships.

The Admiral raised his hand; in the waist, below him, a trumpet blared, and immediately the gunner on the prow touched off his guns.

As the thunder of them rolled out, his lordship saw ahead beyond the English ship and to larboard of her two heavy splashes. Almost at once two successive spurts of flame leapt from the brass cannon on the Arabella's beam-deck, and scarcely had the watchers on the poop seen the shower of spray, where one of the shots struck the water near them, than with a rending crash and a shiver that shook the Milagrosa from stem to stern, the other came to lodge in her fore-castle.

At that blow, the Hidalgo blazed at the Englishman with both her forward guns. But even at that short range—between two and three hundred yards—neither shot took effect.

At a hundred yards the Arabella's forward guns, which had meanwhile been reloaded, fired again at the Milagrosa, and this time smashed her bowsprit into splinters.

At last the Arabella was right between the Spanish ships, prow to poop and poop to prow. Don Miguel spoke to the trumpeter, who had mounted the quarter-deck and stood now at the Admiral's elbow. The man raised the silver bugle that was to give the signal for the broadside of both ships. But even as he placed it to his lips, the Admiral seized him to his arms, and in attempting to fire now upon the Englishman, the Milagrosa and her consort would also be firing into each other. Too late he ordered his helmsman to put the tiller hard over and swing the ship to larboard. At that very moment the Arabella seemed to explode as she swept by. Eighteen guns from each of her flanks emptied themselves at that point-blank range into the hulls of the two Spanish vessels.

The Milagrosa staggered slowly ahead, a gaping rent in her bulworks.

Instead of holding to her course as Don Miguel had imagined that she would, the Arabella had gone about under cover of smoke, and sailing now in the same direction as the Milagrosa, was converging sharply upon her across the wind. There was a rattle and clank of metal as a dozen grapeshot fell, and tore and caught in the timbers of the Milagrosa, and the Spaniard was firmly grappled in the tentacles of the English ship.

Beyond her and now well astern the vol of smoke was rent at last and the Hidalgo was revealed in desperate case. She was blipping fast and it could be no more than a question of moments before she settled down.

Of this Don Miguel's anguished eyes had no more than a fleeting but comprehensive glimpse, before his own decks were invaded by a wild yelling swarm of boarders from the grappling ships.

POSTER CONTEST PLANNED TO BOOST FARM INSTITUTE

Program For Gathering At Greenville In February Is Being Arranged

Greenville — A complete program for the farmers' institute which is to be held at Greenville Feb. 20 and 21 has not been arranged, but Henry Culbertson, who is at the head of the project, is busy planning.

Day programs will be at 10 o'clock and 1:30. On the evening of the first day there will be music and a program by local talent at 8 o'clock.

Some of the discussions will be "Neighborhood Breed Clubs and What They Are Doing," "Figuring out Economical Rations," "Saving the Power of the Wind," "Helping Mother in the Home," "Marketing Farm Crops by Federations," "Cow Testing Associations," "Official Testing," "Liming Acid Soils," "Hoisting the Market for Milk and Its Products." Farmers will be asked to bring samples of soil for testing.

A speaker is expected from Madison. Mr. Culbertson is hoping to have some farm crop exhibits at the institute also.

There will be a poster contest for school girls and boys. The purpose of the poster is to advertise the institute, time and place. The reverse side must bear the name and address name of school, grade of the maker, and the date on which the poster is put up. A poster, to compete for prizes, must be put up in a store window or some other conspicuous place at least one week before opening of the institute. Posters must be the work of boys and girls of grade and rural schools, not of teachers or other older people, but adults may suggest designs and direct the work. Posters may be made from original hand drawings with ink, pencil, crayon or water colors, by mounting pictures clipped from advertisements or other printed material pertaining to agriculture, or in any other manner that is original, attractive, and will get and hold the attention and prove to be good advertising to get out a crowd at the institute.

Prizes of $100 have been appropriated. First prize is $10; second, $8; third, $6; fourth, $5; fifth, $4; sixth, $3; seventh, $2; eighth, $1; ninth, $1; tenth, $1; eleventh, $1; twelfth, $1; thirteenth, $1; fourteenth, $1; fifteenth, $1; sixteenth, $1; seventeenth, $1; eighteenth, $1; nineteenth, $1; twentieth, $1.

A disinterested committee of three people including the institute conductor will judge the posters. The three which are considered best will be sent to the superintendent of farmers' institutes.

This institute is under the direction of Wisconsin Farmers Institute and is for men, women, boys and girls.

A complete program will be announced later.

Spring Sale—May Organize Branch

Special to Post-Crescent

No spring consignment sale will be conducted by the association this year as has been the custom, because there are not enough sale animals available. A committee was appointed, however, to arrange for advertising so the surplus animals may be sold direct to buyers from the farms.

Chester White hogs, the meeting indicated are growing in popularity and it is possible that a branch of the county association will be organized in the northern part of the county. A number of members have been added to the organization, the report showed.

Sure Signs Of Spring Greel Mail Carriers

When the seed catalogs come, can spring be far behind?

The calendar says that spring is still two months hence, but the first advance notices of it are becoming evident in the mails. Seed catalogs and farm implement advertising matter are giving the rural mail carriers something to do, and farmers and gardeners are making use of the long winter evenings by planning their spring work.

Another good sign of spring is the advent of a few stray meadow larks. Two of these were seen near Appleton last week.

HIGH WIND CHURNS SNOW INTO BLIZZARD

A blizzard that very much resembled a sandstorm developed in the rural portions of the county Thursday afternoon, following one of the warmest January forenoons this section ever has known. As soon as the wind began to blow it picked up the snow and filled the ruts in the road, forming a hard crust. Where snow had drifted on the roads to a greater depth, the surface was so hard that horses could walk over it without sinking through. The drifting snow was so sharp that it blinded the drivers and teams.

NEW DIPHTHERIA CASES ARE FEW IN APPLETON

The diphtheria situation in Appleton has not undergone any change since the beginning of the year, but is still being watched. There are about 15 cases of that disease in the city, with new ones arising each week to take the place of those that are released.

Three new cases were reported to Dr. W. C. Felton, city health commissioner, within the last seven days. Dr. Felton is awaiting a report from Madison on a number of cultures which he had forwarded. It is expected that about half a dozen

Anniversaries

We all have anniversaries—and they don't necessarily have to be wedding anniversaries, either.

There have been cases known where anniversaries have been entirely forgotten—at least you may think they have. But deep down in someone's heart was a recollection—and a hope that there would at least be some little token of remembrance.

Keep that next anniversary in mind, and make a mental note to celebrate it with a nice box of Palace Candies.

MANITOWOC ARRIVES FOR BASKETBALL ARGUMENT

HIGH SCHOOL TEAM IS SET FOR TOUGH BATTLE IN ARMORY

Doubleheader Will Start At 7:15 Tonight—Ships Will Seek Revenge

GAMES TONIGHT
Manitowoc at Appleton.
Fond du Lac at Oshkosh.
Sheboygan vs. West Green Bay at Green Bay.
Oconto vs. East Green Bay at Green Bay. (non-conference.)

Manitowoc, the city of ships and sometimes very good basketball teams, will give the Appleton high school basketball team its second test before the "home folks" and the third of the season by their visit to the Appleton armory tonight.

Manitowoc and Appleton will be on a fifty-fifty basis each having won a conference game, though Manitowoc has played one more game than Appleton this season. Manitowoc high schoolers suffered the ball rolling a month ago when they invaded The Rivers for the opening of the new gym in that city and held the Two Rivers five to a single basket. Manitowoc's score was around 20 points. In the next battle Manitowoc lost by a single point to Sheboygan on the Sheboygan floor. Last week they won from East Green Bay 20 to 18.

COMING FOR VENGEANCE
Twice beaten by the Appleton and Oshkosh teams, the Manitowoc boys arrived in Appleton Friday aware that they will have plenty of trouble on their hands. The Shipbuilders will rely a great deal on Chmerek, Scheutte and Tadych, said to be stars.

Although too much cannot be said about Coach Denney's players in advance, it is almost certain they will show up as a team. Denney's lineup will be about the same with the exception of a forward position, which may be taken up by Lutz, a freshman. Mills and Heideman, regular forwards may start but Lutz will be sent in whenever it will be necessary. Both Mills and Heideman are valuable as shots. Captain "Red" Ashman will play at center. The lanky man put up a good game against Oshkosh. Bries and Hagen are in superb form this week and will play at the guard positions. Hagen will be the sentinel at the enemy basket while Bries's offensive attacks as well as his shooting will be relied upon for victory.

SECOND TEAM TO PLAY
Preceding the main event the fireworks game will be started by a curtain-raising game in which the second team will play West DePere. The work of the Seconds last week in the opinion of many of the fans was worth the admission fee alone. Playing on the Appleton side for the opening game will be Courtney and Kohl. Forwards: Hillman, center: Voigt, Hornbeck and Bonini, guards. The first game will start at 7:15.

APPLETON FISTIC FANS WANT ZWICK TO BATTLE HERE

Bugs Believe Proposed Match With Pinky Mitchell Is a Mistake

A demand that Jack Zwick, the Kaukauna battler who won a lot of friends in his defeat at Fond du Lac Wednesday night, be matched with a tough opponent for a battle in Appleton, is growing among fans in this city. Zwick fought his first ring battle here and has been seen in a local ring once since then. He has improved quite a good deal in the last several months and bugs here would like to see what he can do now.

Elmer Johnston, promoter for the Midwest Athletic club which holds the boxing franchise for this city, is endeavoring to sign up the Kaukauna battler and is hopeful of success. He has been coming on his trail for some time but Zwick's manager, Walter, refused to send his protégé here, preferring the prospect for bigger money in Milwaukee where Zwick is something of a favorite. It is said that Zwick is about to change pilots and that satisfactory arrangements now are possible.

MEETS TOUGH WELTER

Zwick's next opponent is Johnny Tillman, a tough welter, whom he will meet in a Milwaukee ring. He is said to be a regular scrapper, clever and a heavy hitter. There is also a negotiation in progress to sign the Kaukauna boy for a battle with Pinky Mitchell, the great Milwaukee welter. To the fans here that looks like suicide. It's a cinch that if Zwick hits Pinky he will knock him half way out of Milwaukee, but the chances for landing a solid blow on the shifty Green Bay star are almost negligible. Followers of the boxing game believe Zwick is being brought along too fast and that he should be content with meeting less well known boys until he is more versed in ring lore. Mitchell could give Zwick a good many boxing lessons but they ought to be given in friendly tiffs in a gymnasium not in front of a crowd where the sole purpose is to win.

MANITOWOC WILL STICK WITH STATE LEAGUE

Manitowoc — Announcement from Oshkosh of a meeting to be held at Milwaukee tomorrow with a view of reorganizing the Wisconsin Valley Baseball league, has aroused much interest in semi-pro baseball circles in this section of the state.

Jack Herzog, of this city, who has received an invitation to attend the meeting, said that he would not be present and did not expect that Manitowoc would be represented. "That same bunch turned us down last season when we rapped for admission if I have anything to do with baseball here this season," said Herzog, who stuck to the State League, said Herzog.

Here are the names of the skaters who will take part in the preliminary races in Jones park Sunday afternoon. The winners of first, second and third places in each event will be eligible to compete in the finals for the medals and city championships on Sunday, Jan. 28. Preliminary events are necessary only in events in which four or more skaters are entered. If three or less skaters answer the call just before each race starts, the three persons ready to race will be eligible for the finals without the necessity of a preliminary event.

ALL MUST RACE

All persons whose names are printed above must be prepared to race Sunday afternoon if they wish to have a chance to win the medals and the championships. Entrants forfeit their right to skate in the finals if they do not appear for the preliminaries in which they are entered.

The program has been arranged to give plenty of rest to skaters who are entered in more than one event and to provide a variety of entertainment for the spectators. The races will start promptly at 1 o'clock and skaters should report to H. D. McChesney, in charge of the contest, at 12:45, prepared to answer the call to line up.

DRAW FOR POSITION

Each contestant will draw for his position on the starting line as he lines up for the race. This is necessary so that there will be absolute fairness in giving the advantage of the pole position on a more or less circular track.

Ten officials will watch and judge the races. Patrol judges will be stationed at the corner posts to see that skaters do not cut corners. Unnecessary roughing will result in disqualification of the offender. All the races will be from a standing start. In the backward race the contestants will skate ten yards before turning around.

Medals for the winners of the final races on Jan. 28 will be received soon and will be placed on exhibition. The emblematic of skating championships will be prized by the winners. Winners in each event in the finals will be listed as champions in their classes and events for one year.

Skaters are urged to be on hand on time so there will be no delay in starting the program or any of the events. The future of ice skating in Appleton depends upon the success of this year's classic and it is hoped and believed that every person entered will be on hand to take part in the skating.

HIGH SCHOOL TEAM WILL PLAY AT MENASHA FRIDAY

Kaukauna—The high school basketball squad goes to Menasha for a game with the high school team Friday evening. The team has been showing up well in practice and Coach Waterpool and his followers are expecting a successful season. The following Friday evening the high school will play Appleton second team at the auditorium. Kaukauna has two dates with the Appleton first but the dates were changed to prevent conflicts with other games.

11 TEAMS NOW IN GRADE SCHOOL WHEEL

Five Basketball Games On Tap For Saturday—First Ward Draws Bye

The Grade School Basketball league, conducted under the auspices of the Y. M. C. A. and the high school, will play its second series of games in the Y. M. C. A. and high school gymnasiums Saturday afternoon.

With the entry of Sacred Heart and St. Mary schools this week the league has been increased to eleven teams. Last Saturday due to repair work in the high school gym all of the games were played in the Y. M. C. A. The contests were scrappy and were enjoyed by the spectators as well as the players.

The schedule for Saturday follows: Lincoln vs. Columbus in H. S. at 1:30 P. M.

Zion vs. Franklin in H. S. at 2:00 P. M.

Sacred Heart vs. St. Mary in H. S. at 3:00 P. M.

St. Joseph vs. Third ward in Y. M. C. A. at 2:00 P. M.

Fourth ward vs. Fifth ward in Y. M. C. A. at 3:00 P. M.

First ward vs. Bye.

COACH MILLS TO USE OLD STARS ON LINEUP

Beloit—Coach Tommy Mills of Beloit college is expected to start the same lineup, Laffin and Connell at forwards, McAuliffe at center, Winkler and McGraw at guards, against Carroll and Lawrence this weekend as he did against Coe and Cornell.

The Beloit squad has been going at a fast clip this week and is not expected to be troubled in either games. Coach Mills is priming his men for the Knox-Bellevue contest on Jan. 23, which is expected to be vital for Beloit's midwest championship hopes for this year. Knox after its defeats of Vermont and Dartmouth, is looked at as Beloit's strongest contender for the conference title.

Wheeler, former captain-elect at Lawrence last year, will probably replace McAuliffe at the pivot position. Beloit's quintet is the same veteran aggregation which copped the midwest champ last season, with the west championship last year.

SEEK DAIRYMEN'S HELP TO ARRANGE PUBLICITY DRIVE

Invitations Received Here To Conference In Madison
February 2

Outagamie-co dairy farmers and dairy products manufacturers are being mailed invitations to the meeting in Madison on Feb. 2 in the interests of the Wisconsin dairy publicity campaign.

The meeting will be held in Agricultural hall and the various organizations have been asked to send delegations. Reduced rates will be offered on all railroads leading into Madison. Dairy farmers, cheesemakers, butter-makers, and other dairy interests of the state are cooperating with the banking and business interests in providing a means for the merchandising and advertising of dairy products. The aim is to produce a high quality product, an efficient commodity, judiciously advertising to stimulate consumption, cooperation of all agencies in the channels of distribution, continuous supply of the product to meet the demand, payment of premium to the producer for high quality product, an efficient commodity marketing organization to guarantee the daily performance of the product to guarantee the proposed requirements.

Although Wisconsin has for years worked to stabilize the dairy industry by improving methods of production, by perfecting processes of manufacture, by enforcing sanitary laws and by developing refrigeration and transportation facilities, dairymen are not bringing satisfactory returns to the farmers. It is held, and for that reason a merchandising program for dairy products is being worked out.

BOY SHOULD NOT BE OUT EVERY NIGHT

Hi-Y Club Thinks Three Nights
a Week Ought To Be Spent At Home

The Hi-Y club discussed the question of how many nights a week a boy should be at home at its meeting at the Y. M. C. A. Wednesday evening. It was brought out that some boys are away from home every evening while others seldom leave home evenings. An average was struck and it was decided that boys should remain at home at least three evenings a week. The discussion will be continued at the next meeting.

Prof. E. E. Emme of Lawrence college gave a talk on the new community training school. The proposed parents' celebration was discussed, but the date was not determined upon. The members plan to hold a meeting from 4 to 5 o'clock Sunday afternoon in front of the fireplace in the boys' division of the Y. M. C. A. They plan also to have their picture taken the same afternoon.

Expert Welfare Worker Desirable; Finances In No Shape To Start Now

Women Say Response To Good
Fellow Appeal Is Big Help
But Money And Helpers Are Needed All The Year

Because so many Appleton Good Fellow has shown an inclination to do more than just their contribution to the welfare agencies at Christmas time, heads of all the agencies which have benefited by the Christmas contributions were interviewed concerning the greatest need for the agencies during the year. The interviews showed that most of the organizations have plenty of volunteer helpers but that they can always use money to carry on their work.

To those who hear of welfare work only at the time of the Good Fellow movement and only vaguely when they read of the meetings of the welfare council, the fact that a great deal of work is done throughout the year is surprising. Most of the organizations use only a part of their Christmas money for the baskets and continue through the year to help families.

A need for a place to keep donated clothing and supplies has long been felt, but this need is beginning to be taken care of through the centralization of the organizations. Temporarily, much of the clothing which was sent in at Christmas time is kept at the armory where it has been assorted. People whom the organization visitors find in need of clothing are brought to the armory to be fitted out with the things they need.

HAVE ALL YEAR NEED
The system of work during the year is shown by what organization heads say of ways in which the public might assist throughout the year. The idea of having a paid welfare worker who has had training in her special line of work was discussed as well as the idea of having a joint campaign for funds other than the Christmas collection.

"Our society has always worked with needy families throughout the year," said Mrs. G. A. Ritchie, president of the City Relief society. "The work at Christmas time is really only a small part of what is done, but it is the only thing that is called to the attention of the public. We are constantly being told of people who are in need and our workers in each ward go to visit these people and determine just what they need. We have always had some clothing and bedding on hand to give out during the year. The money from the Good Fellow has certainly made our work easier at Christmas time and the money helps throughout the year."

"Perhaps the women who have their own homes to look after do not do as systematic work as one trained for the work might do, but I do not think that the people of Appleton are ready to pay the salary for welfare workers."

AN OLD RECIPE TO DARKEN HAIR

Sage Tea and Sulphur Turns
Gray, Faded Hair Dark and Glossy

Almost everyone knows that Sage Tea and Sulphur, properly compounded, brings back the natural color and lustre to the hair when faded, streaked or gray. Years ago the only way to get this mixture was to make it at home, which is messy and troublesome.

Nowadays we simply ask at any drug store for "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound." You will get a large bottle of this old-time recipe improved by the addition of other ingredients, at very little cost. Everybody uses this preparation now, because no one can possibly tell that you darkened your hair, as it does it so naturally and evenly. You dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair disappears, and after another application or two, your hair becomes beautifully dark, thick and glossy and you look years younger.

Speaks Highly of This Home Made Cough Remedy

Says It Acts With Unusual Speed—
Loosens the Mucous—Relieves
The Irritation and Stops
the Cough

Costs Next to Nothing—for a Big Supply

Whenever anyone in my family catches cold and begins to cough and sneeze, and hawk and breathe heavy, it doesn't take me many minutes to fix up a remedy that will drive away all such troubles in double quick time.

It's no secret—anyone can make a half pint of the finest cough medicine in the world for a trifling sum. Get from any druggist one ounce of Eucalypti (double strength) and add a little granulated sugar and enough water to make one half pint—that's all there is to it.

But now you've got a real medicine—mind you—the first spoonful you take acts directly on the membrane of the throat and nose, the tickling ceases almost instantly—the inflammation begins to disappear—up comes the stubborn mucus and often in 24 hours every trace of the cough that frightened you is gone.

It's really remarkable how this home made remedy acts on the mucous membrane and that is one reason it is so helpful to thousands of Catarrh sufferers. adv.

It seems to me at the present time, the money should all be spent on the needy themselves. Of course, a social worker would have all she could do and more in Appleton, but financing the organizations first would probably be better."

EFFORTS LIMITED

"Our society is for anything that will make Appleton a better place in which to live," said Mrs. L. J. Marshall, president of the Jewish Ladies aid society. "The ladies in our society work the whole year around, sewing and helping families. The Christmas baskets are only a small portion of the work. We try to visit the families often so that we can tell how they are getting along and what they need, but we have often felt that we could not keep in touch with them enough. I do not think the people of Appleton are ready to pay a salary for a welfare worker, however."

"The German Ladies Aid society has always found the people of Appleton very ready to help the needy," said Mrs. H. W. Meyer, president of that society. "Ever since the society was organized more than 35 years ago, we have always had money with which to do for people the year around. Winters are long, fuel is needed and the groceries which are sent in at Christmas times are so small a portion of what can be done during the year. I am sure that the ladies would not be in favor of paying a welfare worker with the money that might better be turned over to the direct use of the poor people."

USE LARGE AMOUNT

"By giving many parties and entertainments during the year, the Ladies auxiliary of the Catholic Order of Foresters is able to finance its year around program," said Mrs. George P. McGilgan president of that organization. "The money from the Good Fellow club is the greatest help to us, but the Christmas giving is so small for our Christmas. We need $1,125.85 in 1921 and $1,207.82 in 1922 besides clothing and furniture. I would say that we do not need a paid worker yet and we have had no trouble at all to get women who will go and investigate cases and help in other ways. If some plan of giving more money to the different organizations can be worked out that would be a great help and we could carry on much more work."

"I have found no need for a paid social worker," said Adjutant Bitford of the Salvation Army. "The money is the thing which comes in for the greatest help to us in our work. We have volunteer workers enough, but taking care of the poor the year around takes money. The Good Fellow money which we got was used entirely for our Christmas giving."

"Christmas baskets are really only one meal for these families," said Mrs. Gustave Keller, president of the Appleton Welfare Council. "All the organizations have to do things for people both winter and summer. Some people have been helped by every organization in the city and others need help perhaps once in a lifetime. We have often talked of the necessity of a person who has studied welfare work, but I do not think that the organizations can afford at this time to spend the money for salary. The development of cooperation among the societies has been a great help in making more work possible. We hope the council will be the means of bringing about many forward steps in the course of years. The money given the organizations by the Good Fellow goes a long way in doing the work. It does take a great deal of money to operate without any salaries."

"Appleton is developing a splendid program of volunteer work in the Welfare associations," said Miss Ann Helm, secretary of Appleton Welfare

PREPARE TO MAIL 15,000 TAX BLANKS

Preparations are being made in the office of the county assessor of incomes to mail out the state income tax blanks on which the return is to be made for the 1922 taxable incomes. As nearly as could be forecast by Anton Oppgaard, field representative of the state tax commission, who is in charge of the local office, the blanks will be placed in the mails in about a week or ten days.

A total of approximately 15,000 blanks is being made ready for mailing. These are to be sent to individuals, partnerships and corporations which paid an income tax last year and to those who are likely to have a sufficient income to pay a tax in 1923. Failure to receive a blank does not release a person from his obligations, and he should, if single and receiving an income of $800, or if married and receiving an income of $12,000, make application for a blank and file a return.
